City looking to offer one last $100K round of PACE in 2023

BY BOB DEMAREE

Although the City of Madison's PACE Committee ran out of 2023 funding for that grant program in July, there are plans to ask the Redevelopment Commission for an additional $100,000 to provide for another round of funding this year and continue assisting property owners with rehabilitation of more structures.

Nicole Schell, the city's director of planning, said at Monday's meeting of the Board of Public Works and Safety, that the request is on the agenda for the Redevelopment Commission's September meeting.

"They have not approved that yet but we anticipate their approval at that September meeting to have one more final round at the end of this year because we're completely out of funds," she said.

Mayor Bob Courtney said PACE has been "very successful this year. We have some very deserving applications that have been carried forwards because all of our allocations for 2023, and we can do quite a bit more with one more round."

Schell said once those funds are available that an announcement will be made with the application deadline and the date of the PACE meeting that will review and determine which projects will quality for the funding.

She said there the city currently has two submitted applications along with a list of property owners to notify if and when additional PACE funds are made available.

Schell also reported on the recent transition of the city's Municipal Separate Storm Sewer System from the utility department to the planning department. She said part of new requirements for state permits is there must be a new ordinance submitted that's approved by City Council by April of next year.

Schell said a request for proposal (RFP) was recently released last week in seeking engineering services to help the city draft an ordinance that will meet best practices and state requirements. She anticipates responses from the RFP by next month.

Courtney said an important part of that ordinance is developing good policy and "delineating what is the city's stormwater infrastructure. There is tremendous amount of infrastructure that we have to maintain across the city but it's also homeowner responsibility for stormwater management."

Madison Junior High School's Eric Phagan is a Teacher of Year finalist in Indiana.

Phagan finalist for Indiana Teacher of the Year

BY BOB DEMAREE

Never before has a teacher from Madison Consolidated Schools achieved the honor of Indiana Teacher of the Year but Eric Phagan is among 10 finalists for that honor this year.

"I believe it is the first time one of our teachers has made it to the final rounds," said Ashley Schutte, communications coordinator for Madison Consolidated Schools.

Phagan has been an art teacher at Madison Junior High School since the 2012-2013 school year. He earned the opportunity to be a candidate for Indiana Teacher of the Year through the Indiana Department of Education after being named Teacher of the Year for Madison Consolidated Schools at the end of the 2022-2023 school year.

On Aug. 11, Phagan was announced among the top 25 finalists and then on Friday announced among the top 10 finalists.

Phagan will be interviewed by a panel at the state level on Aug. 25 with the announcement of Teacher of the Year coming this fall.

As an art teacher, Phagan utilized community partnerships to provide student learning opportunities while actively creating positive physical additions to the junior high building. He was instrumental in efforts to create an outdoor classroom and event space at the junior high while utilizing artist Freddie Sizemore to create a mural with street art. While Sizemore created the mural, he also spent time teaching the students about his process of creating art — all a part of Phagan's efforts to help students gain an appreciation for many different types of art.

Smokin' on the Ribberfest

WEQ4U takes top prize at KCBS Indiana State Championship

BY BOB DEMAREE

Now in his ninth year of competing in the Kansas City Barbecue Society's Indiana State Championship, barbecue professional Mark Bowman didn't think he had done anything different or better than in his other eight years of smoking meat for the annual competition in Madison. But this year's entry was good enough for his team WEQ4U to win the 2023 Indiana State Championship competition Saturday at the Madison Ribberfest BBQ & Blues festival.

"Evidently I cooked better," Bowman said, adding that in reality he cooked much the same way he always has. "We just got lucky and probably hit the good tables" in the judging. However, Bowman's wife, Cathy Hale, offered that they did "change the sauce on the ribs" and that could have been a factor.

WEQ4U, fifth at last year's Ribberfest, posted a score of 708.5604. Organizer Drew Garrett thinks that may be the highest score in the event's history.

WEQ4U was first in Pork (178.8572), second in Ribs (177.7144), third in Chicken (176.5600), fifth in Brisket (175.4288) and seventh in Anything Butt (174.8456) with Bacon Pork.

The reserve championship went to Booya Q with Jeff and Teressa Georgic of Carleton, Michigan, who were participating in Ribberfest for only the second time after last year finishing third. The team had an overall score of 699.3600 at Ribberfest including fourth in Chicken (176.5600), sixth in Ribs (176.5600), 10th in Pork (174.2628), 12th in Brisket (171.9772) and 17th in Anything Butt (168.5256).

Brent Copeland, of Madison, saw his Butts-N-Racks BBQ win the Brisket category with a perfect score of 180. He was also 10th overall with a score of 690.2056.

Whiskey Whiskers BBQ, led by Jodi Curtis of Veedersburg, Indiana, won the Chicken cook-off, with a score of 178.8572. The Barbeque Maestros, led by Scott Regal of Indianapolis, won for Ribs with a perfect score of 180. Continental Barbeque, led by Kent Schuetz of Charlestown, won the Anything Butt category with a score of 178.8572. In the Dessert category, both Extra Mile BBQ and Shiggin Ain't Easy had perfect scores but Extra Mile BBQ, led by Michelle Brinck of Cincinnati, was declared the winner.

Two other Madison teams competed — McQ Smokers, led by Jim McPherson, was 28th and ACME, led by Pat Stack, was 33rd.

Garrett, who had previously served as the event organizer for a year, returned as event organizer once again following the retirement of Ken Schneider

Old Settlers' ready for 138th meeting

BY BOB DEMAREE

A nearly 14 decade tradition continues this weekend with the annual Old Settlers' Meeting at Neavill's Grove that's now in its 138th year.

The two-day event includes music and food on Friday evening and a full day of activities on Saturday.

Friday's program features the band HotWired from 6-8 p.m. with food available beginning at 5 p.m.

"Friday night is the fish and everybody loves the fish," said Ginger Sexton, a longtime member of the Neavill's Grove Association board of directors

On Saturday, the homemade ham and bean supper begins serving at 4 p.m. which Sexton said has also been popular with those attending the event.

Entertainment also begins at 4 p.m. with Gary Brown Acoustic Country performing until 5 p.m. The Country Kickers line dancers will perform from 5-6 p.m. before the entertainment wraps up with the Bee Camp Bottom Boys playing from 6-8 p.m.

Earlier in the day on Saturday, there will be an official opening at 11:30 a.m. with the national anthem and flag raising ceremony led by the Sons of the American Revolution. There will also be the traditional a tractor parade at noon with the antique tractors on display all day.

The 26th annual bake-off contest will be at 1:30 p.m. with award categories in cakes, pies and cookies. Entries should be submitted between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. with only one entry allowed per category per person and no refrigerated items. Competitors should submit a recipe with each entry for judges' use only.

Games and contests for children begin at 2 p.m. with a cornhole toss, water relay, water balloon toss, parent calling and bubble gum. There will be prizes for all winners.

Neavill's Grove is a park located seven miles northwest of Madison at 6576 Deputy Pike. The first Old Settlers' Meeting was held on the last Saturday of August in 1885 as a gathering of old friends that has continued on as a community event, still on the last Saturday in August.

Neavill's Grove is part of the old George Neavill Sr. 160-acre farm in Smyrna Township. In 1916, Edward Neavill, grandson of George Neavill Sr., donated and deeded 12 acres of land to Neavill's Grove Incorporated to be maintained as a community picnic and recreation grounds and preserved for its historic background and beauty. In 1924, Edward Neavill donated and deeded an additional eight acres to the association.

The annual Old Settlers' Meeting at Neavill's Grove is included on the Library of Congress Local Legacy Register.

from that position last year. Garrett has been involved in Ribberfest all his life and his father, the late Jeff Garrett who died in 2005, was the founder of Ribberfest.

"We toured seven festivals before we started ours, so I've been involved since day one" of the festival's first year in 2002, Drew Garrett said.

Meanwhile, Schneider is continuing to volunteer even though he is no longer serving as event organizer. He was given a special award for his past contributions to the Madison Ribberfest barbecue contest.

"Ken has been the lifeline of Ribberfest for many years" in making the barbecue contest successful. "He's the one that's made it happen. He's a master of success for Ribberfest," Garrett said.

Garrett said a total of 41 teams competed his year, which was slightly less than he was hoping, but still made for a good contest with a lot of skill on display.

"We were hoping for 45 and we had three cancel the day of," Garrett said, noting the competition limits the number of entries so "we don't overdo the riverfront ... What was nice this year is that we had a good average of repeat people and new people" which he said is a sustainable mix "as long you can have new people coming in and continue to have the existing teams.

"It was a real good contest. I had 63 professional judges, and there were no hiccups. It was a beautiful weekend and beautiful weather," Garrett added.

The numbers aren't yet available but from the view of festival Coordinator Erin Kindle, it was another successful year for Madison Ribberfest BBQ & Blues.

"From my personal perspective, I looked out and it was a huge crowd. The artists were wonderful and it was a great weekend," said Kindle, who paid tribute to all the volunteers and sponsors who made it possible. "They are the ones that make it happen. They put in the sweat and do the work."

Cooler weather and clear skies throughout the weekend made it one the best weather weekends for Ribberfest in recent years with Kindle noting that on Friday night there were some patrons covering up more due to unseasonably cool weather. "It was a good weekend for family and friends," she said.

Meanwhile in the kids and amateur competitions, Garrett's son, Paxton Garrett, provide a glimpse of that sustainable future by winning the 12- to 15-year-old age category for a second consecutive year in the KidsQ event. "I do have to say I am very proud of him. He did not let me help at all, and it was fun to watch," Drew Garrett said of his son.

Parker Curtis of Poland, Indiana, was second in the 12-15 category and Daisy Crone of Blanchester, Ohio, was first in the 8- to 11-year-old age category, while Logan Sondergaard of Ypsilanit, Michigan, was second.

KidQ organizer Sara Hare said 10 kids participated in KidsQ, "I love KidsQ because it's the future of this business, and it's fun to be around," said Drew Garrett.

Blue Dog BBQ, led by Chris and Cheryl Dyer of Cincinnati, won the Gattopuin Award, created by Jeff Garrett, organizer of the first Ribberfest, for the team that likes to eat with a sense of humor.

In the amateur Madison Courier Backyard BBQ competition held Friday, Naked Beaver BBQ was honored as the Best Team. The Best Contraption was File 13 BBQ team. The Best Rub was Sugar Creek Smokers. The winner of the sauce category was Sena Family Smokers.

In Pork, Any Q BBQ was first, Pullin' Out BBQ was second and Just Winging It was third. In Chicken, File 13 BBQ was first, Just Winging It was second and Sugar Creek was third. In Ribs, Big Daddy Dave BBQ was first, Meat Your Maker BBQ was second and Just Winging It was third. In Beef, Melton off the Bone was first, Pullin' Out BBQ was second and Crafton Brothers BBQ was third. In Game, Can't Beat My Meat BBQ was first, Butchin' BBQ was second and Back That Rack Up BBQ was third.

Jeff Demichieli was winner of the Good to the Bone Rib Eating contest for a second consecutive year, finishing his plate of ribs this year with a time of 7:05, five minutes ahead of second place finisher Rico Flores at 12:05. Dan Harper was third with a time of 13:20.Jeff Demichieli was winner of the Good to the Bone Rib Eating contest for a second consecutive year, finishing his plate of ribs this year with a time of 7:05, five minutes ahead of second place finisher Rico Flores at 12:05. OLD TIMBERS LODGE AT BIG OAKS NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE

Old Timbers open house set for Sept. 16

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Big Oaks Conservation Society will hold an open house at the historic Old Timbers Lodge from 1-6 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 16.

The lodge, completed in 1932 by Alexander Thomson, vice president of Champion Paper Company, is located on an overlook of Graham Creek just off K Road in the northeast corner of the refuge. Access to the lodge will be from Gate 8 on Big Oaks National Wildlife Refuge. Gate 8 is located about one mile south of New Marion on Old Michigan Road.

The society will offer tours of the lodge and provide light refreshments. Refuge staff will offer short tours of portions of Big Oaks National Wildlife Refuge. The society will also provide information about their mission and volunteer opportunities at Big Oaks National Wildlife Refuge and at Old Timbers Lodge. Other local conservation groups will have informational booths set up for visitors to discover outdoor opportunities in the surrounding communities.

Big Oaks Conservation Society is a local non-profit friends group that supports the mission and activities of Big Oaks National Wildlife Refuge.

Plan Commission adopts final plats for developing east end homes

BY BOB DEMAREE

Madison's Plan Commission gave final approval Monday to amended plats for the construction of six to nine new east end homes on First Street and Fillmore Street east of Ferry Street in downtown Madison.

Four of the applications for 1010 East First St., 1016 East First St., 1035 Fillmore St. and 1028 East First St. were approved at the July 10 meeting with a fifth application approved for 1030 East First St. at Monday's meeting.

Alexandra Hammock, the applicant, said the plan is to establish each of the lots at 50 feet for building the homes which she suggested would range from six to nine home total.

Nicole Schell, the city's director of planning, said that so far there have only been two permit requests. Because the parcels are in the historic district, the design of the homes will fall under HDBR review.

At the July meeting of the Board of Zoning Appeals, Lisa Hammock said the homes to be built will range from $350,000 to $500,000, and Tony Hammock said $4.5 million to $5 million will be spent on new construction. Although all of the homes will be new construction, Lisa Hammock stated at the April 5 HDBR meeting that they will conform to historic district guidelines in terms of materials.

Tracy Keller Green, who resides north of the parcels on Park Avenue, was at the Plan Commission to review the proposal. She said she is concerned that the project could impede her view of the Ohio River. After being given an overview of the plan, Keller said her questions had been answered but "I'm still not happy about it."

While several homes are slated to be built, Schell said it's not a subdivision because it is her understanding that existing roadways will be used with the homes concentrated around First and Fillmore streets.

Alexandra Hammock said, "There is a road already there, and we are just going to widen it." With First Street being widened, Hammock said there originally had been a road that took it to Fillmore Street "but we don't know if that's going to come back. If we need to, we can, but currently we're not extending that" particularly because that would require additional approvals and complications.

Green said it has been her understanding that there are no plans for additional sidewalks and lights on Fillmore or First streets, and expressed that she thought there should be. "If we're going to have all this extra traffic on there, that's a concern for me."

Schell said she "is not aware the city has any intentions of making any improvements along that road."

Josh Wilber, chairman of the Plan Commission, said, "It certainly is a concern the city should be made aware of, but it's not part of the plan we will look at tonight."

Schell told Green that her concerns about infrastructure improvements in that area should be addressed to the Board of Public Works and Safety.

During the Board of Zoning Appeals meeting, a discussion lasting longer than an hour ensued related to 1011 Fillmore Street in which Mary Ann Bennett had submitted a conditional use permit to allow camping for select events and family and friends.

The concerns voiced were eventually alleviated when it was clarified that Bennett didn't want any more than three campers at a time on her one-acre lot. "I don't want 12 campers down there ... two to three at the most … I never wanted that to begin with … I don't want the headache," she said.

There had been concern expressed at the July 10 BZA meeting about how allowing camping could impact property values — including the homes proposed by the Hammocks — but that was alleviated with the limitation in campers. "Twelve versus three is huge," Lisa Hammock said.

There had also been discussion about limiting camping dates to just five weekend over the summer but the BZA decided upon nine while approving a one-year conditional use with a three camper limitation and then revisit the issue next year if their are future concerns.

In other BZA business, a 3-foot setback was approved at 1123 West Main St. on the east property line for construction of a 20 foot x 32 foot single-story garage. The original application had included an upstairs apartment, and by changing that to a single story, the concerns of several neighbors were resolved.

Fortino Miranda was approved for a conditional use for a mobile home at 3684 East Interstate Block Road where one had been located for several years, but without receiving proper approvals. Miranda was also approved for a variance for 21 foot setback as he replaces an existing deteriorated mobile home with a newer model.

Two approvals were given for short-term rentals — one for Kelsey Shaw at 118 Ferry St. and another Rebeccah Brown at 307 East Fourth St. Also, Mark and Bobbie Jo Timmons were approved for a variance to expand an existing covered deck at 810 East Second St.

CITY

The mayor noted that when there's heavy precipitation, the city's storm runoff is challenging to manage. "Our job is to get as much drainage through to the river through the creeks, the tributaries, the gutters, gutter pans, culverts and maintain that infrastructure so the water can get out to the river and not accumulate or pool or flood."

Courtney said the city will continue to work towards creating policy to manage stormwater, along with working with the Army Corps of Engineers on infrastructure investments that need to be made to mitigate flooding such as what's occurred in recent years on Walnut Street.

In other business:

• With work currently in progress to improve the city's drinking water infrastructure, Courtney made the board aware of the impact that has had on streets impacted by that work. He said the project is "inching its way" toward completion. "We're actually ahead of schedule. We're not happy with the schedule but contractually we're ahead of schedule. We're anxious to do the surface restoration" in areas where the infrastructure work has required tearing into streets. "That's been the most disruptive part of the entire project," noting residents that resident don't directly notice the impact of work on water towers and tanks. "I appreciate everyone's patience. We are closing in on it," he said, citing that surface restoration is complete at Hillcrest Drive and partially complete in the Sunrise subdivision. Work will then be done in September on Franks Drive and then Flint Street.

Approved State Revolving Fund (SRF) disbursement requests for the city's water infrastructure project — $56,140.83 to Commonwealth Engineers, $615,805 for Dave O'Mara Contracting and $148,295 for MW Cole Construction. There were two payments to Brackney Inc. — one from last month for $426,930 and one this month for $592,314.

• Approved street closings around the Broadway Fountain for Trunk or Treat by Trinity United Methodist Church on Sunday, Oct. 29. Additionally, street closings were approved for the Broadway School Reunion and Street Dance on Saturday, Sept. 16.

• A resolution was also approved for closing Blackmore Street from State Street to Clifford Street from Aug. 28 through Sept. 1 to make repairs to a sewer line. City attorney Joe Jenner said he didn't think the city necessarily needed a resolution for street closings, noting that sometimes they are needed in emergency situations when there wouldn't be time for a resolution. "If it's not an emergency, it's my preference to do this, so we can properly keep everyone engaged," said Courtney.

• Approved final PACE awards to Kathryn Trueblood at 921 West Main St. for $8,750, to Jim Pruett at 304 Jefferson St. for $7,500 and to Steve and Elizabeth Thomas at 208 East Second St. for $7,500. Also, approved a final PACE award of $22,500 for a dilapidated structure grant to Michael O'Neal Jr. at 128 Mulberry St. in which the brick facade at the former Scott Industries building was salvaged and the remainder demolished and replaced with a new metal structure.

"All four of these look fantastic," said Courtney. "I really appreciate all the investment ... that's bringing new life to those properties which is bringing new life to our neighborhoods."

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today's Highlight in History:

On Aug. 22, 1851, the schooner America outraced more than a dozen British vessels off the English coast to win a trophy that came to be known as the America's Cup.

On this date:

In 1787, inventor John Fitch demonstrated his steamboat on the Delaware River to delegates from the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia.

In 1910, Japan annexed Korea, which remained under Japanese control until the end of World War II.

In 1914, Austria-Hungary declared war against Belgium.

In 1922, Irish revolutionary Michael Collins was shot to death, apparently by Irish Republican Army members opposed to the Anglo-Irish Treaty that Collins had co-signed.

In 1968, Pope Paul VI arrived in Bogota, Colombia, for the start of the first papal visit to South America.

In 1972, John Wojtowicz and Salvatore Naturile took seven employees hostage at a Chase Manhattan Bank branch in Brooklyn, New York, during a botched robbery; the siege, which ended with Wojtowicz's arrest and Naturile's killing by the FBI, inspired the 1975 movie "Dog Day Afternoon."

In 1989, Black Panthers co-founder Huey P. Newton was shot to death in Oakland, California.

In 1992, on the second day of the Ruby Ridge siege in Idaho, an FBI sharpshooter killed Vicki Weaver, the wife of white separatist Randy Weaver.

In 1996, President Bill Clinton signed welfare legislation that ended guaranteed cash payments to the poor and demanded work from recipients.

In 2000, Publishers Clearing House agreed to pay $18 million to 24 states and the District of Columbia to settle allegations it had used deceptive promotions in its sweepstakes mailings.

In 2003, Alabama's chief justice, Roy Moore, was suspended for his refusal to obey a federal court order to remove his Ten Commandments monument from the rotunda of his courthouse.

In 2007, A Black Hawk helicopter crashed in Iraq, killing all 14 U.S. soldiers aboard.

Ten years ago: Egypt's ousted leader Hosni Mubarak was released from prison and transported to a military hospital in a Cairo suburb to be held under house arrest. The day before, Mubarak was sentenced to up to 35 years in prison for leaking secrets. A mysterious glitch halted trading on the Nasdaq for three hours.

Five years ago: The bull market in U.S. stocks became the longest one on record; it had been 3,453 days since the S&P 500 index had seen a drop of 20 percent or more. Ohio State suspended football coach Urban Meyer for three games; investigators found that Meyer had protected an assistant coach for years through domestic violence allegations, a drug problem and poor job performance. A Democratic Party official said an attempt to break into the party's massive voter database had been thwarted.

One year ago: Lawyers for former President Donald Trump asked a federal judge to prevent the FBI from continuing to review documents recovered from his Florida estate until a neutral special master could be appointed. The attorneys asserted in a court filing, their first since the FBI search of Mar-a-Lago two weeks earlier, that the sets of documents taken from the residence were "presumptively" covered by executive privilege. Dr. Anthony Fauci, the nation's top infectious disease expert who became a household name — and the subject of partisan attacks — during the COVID-19 pandemic, announced he would leave the federal government in December. Great Britain's Prince William and his wife, Kate, announced they were relocating their family from central London to more rural dwellings in Windsor.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today's Highlight in History:

On Aug 23, 1927, amid worldwide protests, Italian-born anarchists Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti were executed in Boston for the murders of two men during a 1920 robbery. (On the 50th anniversary of their executions, then-Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis issued a proclamation that Sacco and Vanzetti had been unfairly tried and convicted.)

On this date:

In 1305, Scottish rebel leader Sir William Wallace was executed by the English for treason.

In 1775, Britain's King George III proclaimed the American colonies to be in a state of "open and avowed rebellion."

In 1914, Japan declared war against Germany in World War I.

In 1939, Nazi Germany and the Soviet Union agreed to a non-aggression treaty, the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact, in Moscow.

In 2000, A Gulf Air Airbus crashed into the Persian Gulf near Bahrain, killing all 143 people aboard.

In 2003, former priest John Geoghan, the convicted child molester whose prosecution sparked the sex abuse scandal that shook the Roman Catholic Church nationwide, died after another inmate attacked him in a Massachusetts prison.

In 2004, President George W. Bush criticized a political commercial accusing Democratic nominee John Kerry of inflating his own Vietnam War record, and said broadcast attacks by outside groups had no place in the race for the White House.

In 2008, Democratic presidential candidate Barack Obama introduced his choice of running mate, Sen. Joe Biden of Delaware, before a crowd outside the Old State Capitol in Springfield, Illinois.

In 2011, a magnitude-5.8 earthquake centered near Mineral, Virginia, the strongest on the East Coast since 1944, caused cracks in the Washington Monument and damaged Washington National Cathedral.

In 2020, a white police officer in Kenosha, Wisconsin, shot a Black man, Jacob Blake, seven times as officers tried to arrest Blake on an outstanding warrant; the shooting left Blake partially paralyzed and triggered several nights of violent protests.

Ten years ago: A military jury convicted Maj. Nidal Hasan in the deadly 2009 shooting rampage at Fort Hood, Texas, that claimed 13 lives; the Army psychiatrist was later sentenced to death. Staff Sgt. Robert Bales, the U.S. soldier who'd massacred 16 Afghan civilians, was sentenced at Joint Base Lewis-McChord, Washington, to life in prison with no chance of parole. San Diego Mayor Bob Filner, a Democrat, agreed to resign in return for the city's help defending him against claims he'd groped, kissed and made lewd comments to women.

Five years ago: Mark David Chapman, the killer of former Beatle John Lennon, was denied parole for a 10th time. The long-running rift between President Donald Trump and Attorney General Jeff Sessions exploded into a public smackdown, with Trump accusing Sessions of failing to take control of the Justice Department and Sessions responding that he "will not be improperly influenced by political considerations." The United States and China imposed tariff increases on an additional $16 billion of each other's goods.

One year ago: A jury convicted two men of conspiring to kidnap Michigan Gov. Gretchen Whitmer in 2020, a victory for prosecutors in a plot that was broken up by the FBI and described as a rallying cry for a U.S. civil war by anti-government extremists. Adam Fox and Barry Croft Jr. were also found guilty of conspiring to obtain a weapon of mass destruction as part of the plot. The husband of U.S. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi pleaded guilty to misdemeanor DUI related to a crash in California's wine country and agreed to spend five days in prison. The Nielsen Co. revealed that the "Game of Thrones" spinoff "House of the Dragon" was the most-watched series premiere ever for HBO.

Another project by Phagan at the junior high was the mural "Starry Night Over Madison" created by the Madison Junior High School Art Club and based on Vincent Van Gogh's painting "The Starry Night." The mural anchors a new art gallery space inside the building.

More recently, as part of the Sunrise Crossing development, Phagan has been instrumental as MCS established a partnership to provide a hands-on, creative learning experience in working with sculptor Dale Rogers to inspire students to create community art.

Phagan, a Madison native, is a graduate of the Herron School of Art and Design. He's a respected artist in Madison with much of his work on display at Gallery 115 in downtown Madison. Many of his paintings are of local streetscapes and landscapes of the Ohio River valley.

A press release from the Indiana Department of Education states, "each year, the Indiana Teacher of the Year Program works to inspire, rejuvenate, and celebrate the teaching profession by recognizing outstanding teachers from across the state."

Madison no match for Greenfield in opener

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

GREENFIELD — Madison had a flash of excitement at the very beginning of the game, but the rest of Friday's football season opener was a difficult slog for the undermanned Cubs.

Greenfield-Central scored early and often and rolled to a 49-0 win over Madison at home on Friday night in the season opener for both teams.

Madison finished with fewer yards than the Cougars had points scored and other than the opening drive which saw the Cubs reach the Greenfield 7-yard line, there were few positive moments for a Madison team attempting to recover from graduation and transfer losses, as well as several players suspended to open the season.

"We have lost some key guys to graduation, moving or whatever and some guys have had to step up," Madison coach Leroy Wilson said. "I don't like to play the 'what if' game, but at the end of the day does it change the score? I don't know. But I know that we weren't at full strength tonight. And I'm curious to what this team looks like at full strength. I don't know that it would have been a different result tonight, but we're a different team."

Greenfield-Central scored on its opening drive — the first of quarterback Dallas Freeman's four touchdown passes — but Madison nearly responded. Cam Wall returned the kickoff 52 yards down to the Cougar 38-yard line and an 18-yard run by Taytem Anderson two plays later brought the Cubs to the Greenfield 7-yard line.

But Madison was unable to cash in and turned the ball over on downs. As it turned out, that opening possession was the Cubs' best all night.

Freeman threw touchdown passes of 6, 41, 52 and 23 yards, and ran for another touchdown from 9-yards out as the Cougars scored on every possession. Greenfield also picked up two defensive scores, a 19-yard interception return and 12-yard fumble return to build a 49-0 lead by halftime.

Despite the onslaught, Wilson felt like his team continued to show fight and never backed down.

Defense rules as Madison, Southwestern finish in 1-1 draw

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Defense was the name of the game for Madison and Southwestern as the two Jefferson County rivals finished in a 1-1 draw in boys soccer action Thursday in Madison.

Other than a pair of goals within four minutes of each other midway through the second half, offensive chances were few and far between as both defenses took turns controlling the action. Madison ended up out-shooting Class A No. 18 Southwestern 14-7 overall, but only seven of the Cubs' attempts were on frame compared to four by the Rebels.

"I'm extremely proud of the boys with how they responded. This is a tough opponent and they all know each other," first-year Madison coach Kyle Boekeloo said. "I'm really proud of the boys after our first game on Tuesday when we didn't perform the way that we wanted to perform. So we challenged the boys to get out here tonight and just put in a solid effort and they did well today."

Each team took turns dominating play but by the end of the first half, it was Madison (2-0-1) in control. The Cubs had two good looks at the net in the final eight minutes but were snuffed by Rebel goalkeeper Will Stockdale.

Southwestern (0-0-1) opened the second half as the aggressor and it finally paid off when Connor Johnson slipped behind the defense and fired a shot from the left side that just beat Madison keeper Graham Klein to give the Rebels a 1-0 lead in the 63rd minute.

But that advantage didn't last long. Less than four minutes later, the Cubs' Oscar Gonzalez Furado found an opening in the Rebel defense and squeezed a shot past Stockdale for the equalizer.

"We had talked today about how are you going to respond if you get scored on first," Boekeloo said, "and they just took it to a next level."

Tied 1-1, neither team could break through for the go-ahead goal although both teams had strong looks over the final three minutes.

David Campbell

Madison's Griffin Schwartz (7) attempts to breakaway from Southwestern's Corbin Ream during their boys soccer matchup in Madison on Thursday. The game ended in a 1-1 draw.

While Southwestern coach Seth Shields was disappointed at not being able to pull out the win, he was happy with the way the team performed in their season opener.

"We came into this season with the expectations that this was our year. Unfortunately, our first game got postponed so we haven't had a chance to play yet," Shields said. "But overall, it's very hard to be disappointed with the way the game came to play. We did score first. We were on the attacking occasions and other times we were on our back heels but our defense played well. We made the right plays, we made good decisions. We just kind of just missed a couple opportunities that could have went our way."

Along with leading in shots, Madison also had six corner kick chances to none by the Rebels. However, the Cubs were also whistled for eight fouls — including a yellow card — to just two by Southwestern. Stockdale stopped six shots for Southwestern while Klein had three saves.

The game was the second for Boekeloo as head coach of the Cubs after taking over for Kyle Bipes. Boekeloo had a successful coaching career in Illinois before stepping aside for a few years and is thrilled to be back on the sidelines.

"When I got out of coaching, it was a tough decision, but I knew that it was a decision that I needed to make for the family and moving out here was better for the family. So it was tough at first to get away from the game and but I think it was a good refresh to get away from the game," Boekeloo said. "I love the fact that I got this opportunity from (athletic director) Patric (Morrison), to put it in my hands and kind of let me take the reins of it and I'm excited to see what the boys are going to do the rest of the year. Hopefully we can string together a couple of victories here and continue to roll in the right direction."

On Saturday, Madison picked up a big 1-0 win at Silver Creek. Bradley Martinez scored the winning goal.

Madison returns to action on Tuesday when it hosts Scottsburg. The Cubs' next game won't be until Aug. 29 when they travel to Charlestown.

Southwestern hosted South Ripley on Monday and hosts Jac-Cen-Del on Friday.

CROSS COUNTRY ROUNDUP

Madison boys win Knoble Invite for 3rd-straight year

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison didn't have the individual champion, but the Cubs dominated the top five and ran away with their own Lou Knoble Cross Country Invitational at home on Saturday.

Scottsburg's Jadon Muncy won the race in 17:14.9 but the next three positions all belonged to Madison. Travis Hoffman was second overall in 17:59.7, Will Laufer was third in 18:13.5 and Logan Ferris was fourth in 18:33.2.

Layne Laufer placed seventh in 18:57.8 and Ben Crouch was ninth in 19:25.0 to round out Madison's scoring. Mason Davis was 12th in 19:36.9, Kayden McKay was 15th in 20:00.3 and Trenton Schafer was 33rd in 28:26.1 for Madison.

Madison scored 25 points to beat out the four-team field with Shawe placing second with 61. Sam Fewell led the Hilltoppers with a fifth-place finish in 18:41.5, Cavaan Hambrick was eighth in 19:14.7, Nathan Fewell was 10th in 19:27.4, Matthew Vaughn was 18th in 21:49.9 and Loren Stiver was 20th in 22:06.2. Also for Shawe, Cal Cranney was 25th in 22:51.1 and Luke Gardner was 36th in 30:13.3.

In the girls race, Madison placed second with 34 points. Charlestown, the only other school with a full team, won the race with 21 points.

Ava Spencer led Madison with a third-place finish in 22:39.0, Rayme Dean was ninth in 26:49.9, Carolyn Mahoney was 13th in 28:27.9, Addie Nott was eighth in 28:45.5 and Maya Kemp was 19th in 31:44.5.

Allison Knoebel led Shawe with a fourth-place finish in 23:25.7. Berkeley Neuman was 16th in 30:00.7 and Cassidy Nott was 20th in 32:54.1.

Kaylee Kinser of Charlestown won the race in 20:32.8.

Madison's girls were to compete in the Hokum Karem race at Silver Creek on Tuesday and travel to the Salem Invitational on

Panthers honor fallen teammate in emotional victory

BY ABBY HOOVEN
PAXTON MEDIA GROUP

Less than a week after the tragic death of junior center Bryce Stewart, Carroll County's football team rallied behind the support of the community to defeat Western 36-12 in an emotional performance on Friday, Aug. 18.

Prior to the game, the Panthers held a moment of silence for Stewart, who died in a shooting on Sunday. The team honored him further with Stewart's younger brother, Will, taking the first snap of the game under center.

"It's been more than a difficult week," said Carroll County head coach Lonnie Oldham. "We're trying to move forward, but we'll never move forward. It will be 30 years and we're still going to be hurting for it … We're going to miss him, but now we just got to try to keep moving forward and never forget him, but we got to play harder for him."

After a scoreless first quarter, Western got on the board with 6:19 to go in the second quarter on a 10-yard touchdown pass from Darrion Stringer to Xavion Ware.

Carroll County quickly countered on the next drive with a 30-yard touchdown pass to Zayn Satchwell to go ahead 7-6.

Carroll County players honored fallen teammate Bryce Stewart with stickers of his name and number on the back of their helmets. Stewart tragically passed away in a shooting on Sunday, Aug. 13.

Panther quarterback Parker Mumphrey extended the Panther lead with a 5-yard touchdown run with 3:04 left in the first half.

Satchwell dominated on the ground for Carroll County all night and added a 20-yard touchdown run with 50 seconds left in the second quarter to push the lead to 21-6.

"Zayn really carried us early," said Oldham.

The run game stayed strong in the second half for the Panthers, with Mumphrey using a 1-yard quarterback keeper for a touchdown to boost the lead to 29-6.

Michael Sewell elevates to snag a pass over a Warrior defender late in Carroll County's 36-12 victory over Western on Friday night.

Penalties slowed Western in the third quarter, but the Warriors got back on the board with 11:40 left in the game when Ware broke loose for a 67-yard run to cut Carroll County's lead to 29-12.

With about four minutes to play, Panther senior Michael Sewell nabbed a pass over a Warrior defender in the end zone to push the game out of reach for good.

"We started slow and then we just kept building so hopefully we can carry that enthusiasm over to next week," said Oldham.

With the win, Carroll County moves to 1-0 on the season while Western falls to 0-1. The Panthers visit Kentucky Country Day, 1-0 after a 31-20 win over Atherton in theire Bearcats' opener, on Friday.

RAIDERS OPEN WITH WIN

Trimble County opened the 2023 season with an 8-6 victory at Jackson County on Friday.

The Raiders, now 1-0 on the season, host Bellevue on Friday in their home opener.

Switzerland dominates Crawford in season opener

BY ADAM PIETRYKOWSKI

Switzerland County football opened the season in dominating fashion on Friday night, defeating Crawford County 34-0.

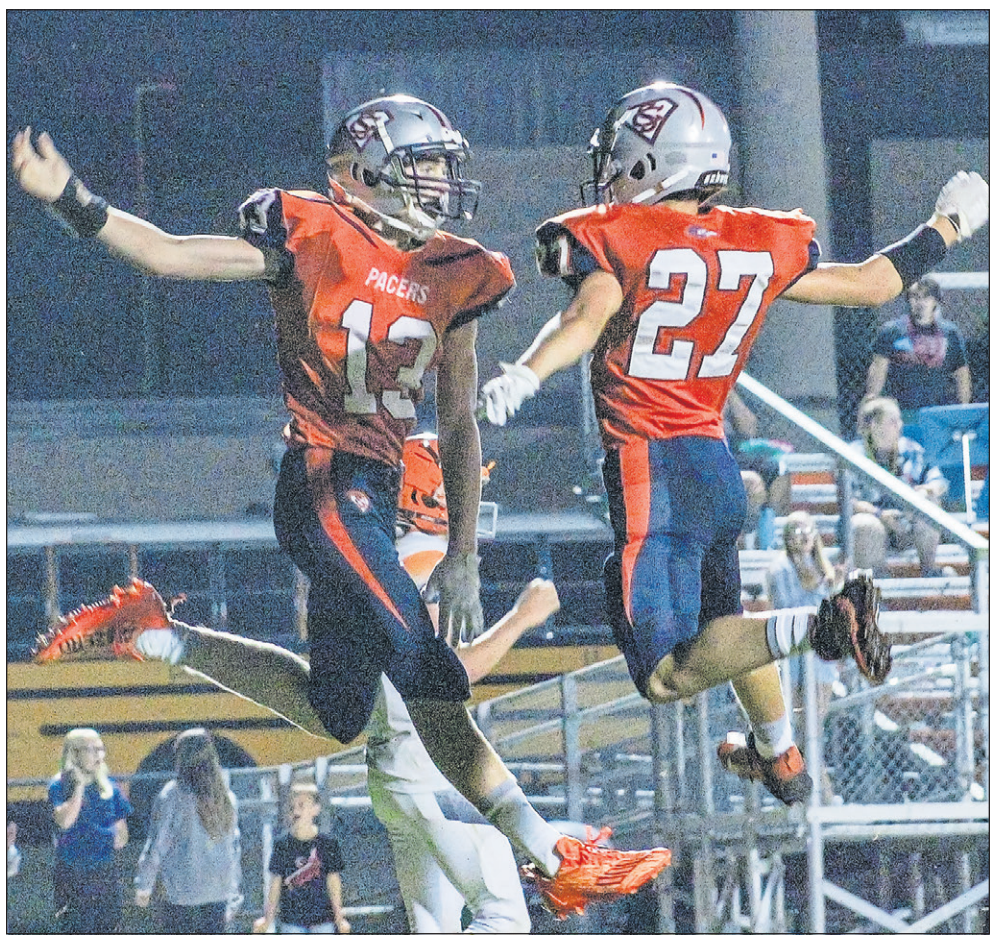
The Pacers defense set the tone for the game with a fast and physical brand of football that the young Wolfpack could not match.

Early-season jitters were on display for both teams early in the game, but the Pacers offense broke through when sophomore quarterback Alex Bailey hit freshman Mason Stroud in stride on a deep post on a fourth and eight play that became a 25-yard touchdown late in the first quarter.

Following a quick three-and-out forced by Bryson Reynolds and the defense, the Pacers went on a long touchdown drive capped by a tough 8-yard run by Keaton Mosely to go up 14-0 at halftime.

Following a failed onside kick attempt on the second half kickoff, the Switzerland defense began an incredible stretch of football. Crawford County lost 40 yards through penalties and negative plays over the next four downs, culminated by a high snap that forced the punter to cover the ball at his own 8-yard line. Bailey and the Pacer offense capitalized on the short field by pushing in a quarterback keeper from the 4-yard line.

The Pacer defense kept up the pressure on Crawford County, not allowing a single positive yard in the third quarter and not surrendering a first-down play until midway through the fourth quarter. That stretch defined the game as the defense cruised and the offense continued to add to Switzerland's lead.



Devin Rowe

Switzerland County's Matthew Young (13) and Peyton Richards (27) celebrate after a score in the Pacers' 34-0 season opening win over Crawford County on Friday night in Vevay.

Perhaps the biggest highlight of the night came from sophomore Matthew Young, who made a spectacular catch and run for an 80-yard touchdown to push Switzerland County ahead 27-0 late in the third quarter.

With the Pacer offense and defense both shining, it was only fitting that the final score of the night came courtesy of the special team unit. Junior Ethan McClellan broke through for a blocked punt, which he also recovered and returned for a touchdown. He then kicked the extra point, giving the Pacers their final 34-0 margin in the win.

Switzerland County, now 1-0, travels across the Ohio River next Friday to play at Gallatin County at 7:30 p.m. in Warsaw, Kentucky.

The Wildcats were 21-0 winners over Dayton Friday in their season opener. The Pacers beat Gallatin 21-8 a year ago in Vevay after having their game in 2021 canceled by COVID.

Madison shoots season low at Floyd Central Invite

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison girls golf shot its best 18-hole match of the season to place seventh at the Floyd Central Invitational on Saturday.

Madison shot an even 400 as a team and every golfer set a personal best. Floyd Central won the event with a 296 while Batesville carded a 306.

"These young ladies never cease to amaze me. At the end of another week, they took another huge leap and very nearly crossed the 400-stroke barrier; but you can't complain when all five golfers set a personal best on the same day," Madison coach Jake Shockley said. "All of the ladies had some moments where they really shined today, and I think they got a taste of how good they can really be. I'm not sure if we'll run out of time, but I could see all five of them under 100 if some of the right pieces fall into place."

Sophomore Emmi Dowell had her best round of the season, shooting an 83 to place 15th in the 59-golfer field.

"Emmi was really impressive for about 85% of the match. She had two four-putts on the back and still shot a personal-best 83," Shockley said. "I saw her hit a couple of balls today that were just different. If she puts in the work around the green, too, we're talking 77s and 78s."

Eliza Burnett shot a 104 for the Cubs, Aleigh Wilson had a 105, Lauren Conner a 108 and Caity Dailey a 110.

"Ally had a stretch where she looked about as good as anybody I've ever coached. She faded down the stretch, but it you take out hole number three, she was only four over on the other eight. She's really starting to get it," Shockley said. "Lauren had the fortitude to come back after a rough start, Eliza's 104 was almost shocking. I can't believe the scores she's able to put up already, and Caity hits it as far off the tee as just about anybody I've ever coached."

Madison was to travel to Charlestown on Tuesday and host Columbus East on Wednesday. The Cubs' next match after that is Aug. 29 at home against Floyd Central.

~~{h4 style="text-align: center "}~~Wells medalist to lead Shawe~~{/h4}~~

Kira Wells claimed low-medalist honors and Yolett Perez had a strong round as the Shawe girls golf team hosted Jac-Cen-Del and Lawrenceburg at Sunrise Golf Course on Thursday.

Wells shot a 41 while Perez had a 49 for the shorthanded Hilltopper squad. Lawrenceburg had a 255 to edge Jac-Cen-Del by two strokes in the team event.

"It's nice to see Kira bounce back after struggling a little at the Madison Invitational," Shawe coach David Hertz said. "She and Yolett both played better and just need to try not to put so much pressure on themselves. Sometimes they're their own worst enemies."

Shawe hosted Southwestern and Jac-Cen-Del on Monday and heads to Jennings County on Wednesday.

GIRLS SOCCER ROUNDUP

Shawe beats Southwestern 3-0

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Shawe's girls soccer team claimed its second-straight win, this time beating Southwestern 3-0 at home on Friday.

The Hilltoppers, playing in their first season, got goals from Jenna Flint, Julia Leatherman and Salma Rangel to claim the victory. Flint, Berkeley Neuman and Josselin Perez each had an assist.

Shawe claimed the victory, but lost their goalie and a midfielder to injuries in the contest. Southwestern also had two players go out with injuries.

Southwestern, playing with just 11 players, was unable to stay with the Hilltoppers for the full 80 minutes. The game did not count in the Ohio River Valley Conference standings.

"I was impressed how well they played together and did positioning since we do not have enough to practice a full field," Southwestern coach Nancy Totten said. "The first half went well but ended 0-0. In the second half, we started to tire and injuries hampered us. Shawe was revitalized after their first goal. By their last goal we had only nine players on the field."

Shawe, now 2-1 on the season, played in the Oldenburg Twister Cup on Saturday, hosted Rising Sun on Monday and hosts Carroll County on Wednesday.

Southwestern, now 0-1 on the season, hosts Class A No. 11 Switzerland County on Tuesday and travels to Milan on Wednesday.

Shawe's Julia Leatherman (18) dribbles the ball past Southwestern's Dakota Morrison during Friday's home game against the Rebels. Leatherman scored in the Hilltoppers' 3-0 win as Shawe improved to 2-1 in its inaugural season.

PACERS BEAT RIPLEY 6-0

Class A No. 11 Switzerland County picked up its third lopsided win of the week with a 6-0 victory at South Ripley on Thursday.

Despite a slow start, the Pacers eventually dominated the game. Halle Archer claimed a hat trick with three goals and added an assist, Avy Burkholder, Emma Parsons and Emma South each had a goals, and South and Lainey McAlister each had an assist.

Switzerland, now 3-0 overall and 2-0 ORVC, hosted Carroll County on Monday and Was to travel to Southwestern on Tuesday. The Pacers then travel to Class 2A No. 20 Silver Creek on Saturday.

MADISON GIRLS FALL TO CREEK

Madison girls soccer lost 4-1 at Class 2A No. 20 Silver Creek on Saturday.

The Cubs, now 1-2 on the season, hosted South Ripley on Monday and host Austin on Wednesday. Madison hosts Charlestown on Saturday.

CARROLL GIRLS FALL TO SPENCER

Carroll County girls soccer dropped a 4-0 decision at Spencer County on Saturday.

Laila Miller had nine saves in goal for the Panthers. Carroll, now 0-4 on the season, travel across the river for two games this week. On Monday, the Panthers headed to Class A No. 11 Switzerland County and on Wednesday, Carroll travels to Shawe. The Panthers wrap up the week at Franklin County on Saturday.

In singles, Braden Helton won at No. 1, Brady Cook won at No. 2 and Talon Wynn claimed No. 3. In doubles, Jamison Lewis and Braxton Lewis won at No. 1 and Jeremiah Loos and Max Joseph won at No. 2.

Southwestern travels to New Washington on Wednesday and hosts Trinity Lutheran on Friday. The Rebels then host Jennings County on Aug. 29.

MADISON SPLITS AT BNL

Madison boys tennis split two matches in the Bedford North Lawrence Invitational over the weekend.

On Friday, Madison lost 5-0 to Borden. In singles, Kaid Fink lost 6-2, 5-1 at No. 1, Mitchell Cammack lost 6-2, 6-2 at No. 2 and Briar Boldery lost 6-3, 6-0 at No. 3. In doubles, Bodie Harsin and Carson Cammack lost 6-0, 6-1 at No. 1 and Tucker Whitaker and Brock Brandon lost 6-1, 6-1 at No. 2.

On Saturday, Madison scored a 3-2 win over Bloomfield in the third-place match. The Cubs won all three singles matches with Fink claiming a 6-0, 6-3 win at No. 1, Mitchell Cammack winning 6-2, 6-2 at No. 2 and Boldery winning 6-3, 6-1 at No. 3. In doubles, Harsin and Carson Cammack lost 6-2, 6-1 and Whitaker and Brandon fell 6-2, 7-5 at No. 2.

Madison, now 2-1 on the season, hosted Lawrenceburg on Monday and hosts Greensburg on Tuesday. The Cubs then travel to Columbus East on Thursday and host Trinity Lutheran next Monday.

BOYS SOCCER ROUNDUP

Comeback falls short in 4-3 Shawe loss to Assumption

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Shawe boys soccer played from behind nearly the entire way and ended up on the wrong end of a 4-3 loss to Assumption Academy of Kentucky on Thursday at home.

The Hilltoppers trailed 2-1 early and 4-2 at halftime before pulling within one gal in the second half but were never able to get the equalizer.

Jacob Hertz scored goals in the 7th, 22nd and 71st minute to claim a hat trick for the Hilltoppers. Rodrigo Reyes-Morales had two assists and Luis Lepe had one assist.

Shawe, now 1-1 on the season, traveled to Lanesville on Monday and heads to South Ripley on Wednesday. The Hilltoppers then host Christian Academy of Indiana on Monday, Aug. 28.

SWITZERLAND FALLS AT LAWRENCEBURG

Class A No. 7 Switzerland County lost its first regular-season match since 2021 in a 1-0 setback at Lawrenceburg on Thursday.

The Pacers, who ran the table in the regular season last year before falling the regional, played tough but couldn't break through. Lawrenceburg scored 10 minutes into the second half for the only goal of the game.

"The effort was solid tonight and gives this team things that we can work on going forward," Switzerland coach David Todd said.

Switzerland, now 1-1 on the season, hosted Jac-Cen-Del on Monday and hosts Rising Sun on Wednesday.

CARROLL BOYS WHIP FRANKFORT CHRISTIAN

Carroll County boys soccer claimed a 9-1 win over Frankfort Christian at home on Saturday.

On Thursday, Carroll suffered a 4-2 loss at Spencer County. No details from either game were available.

Carroll, now 2-3 on the season, hosts Grant County on Thursday and hosts Anderson County on Saturday.

VOLLEYBALL ROUNDUP

Madison rolls over Salem

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison made short work of Salem, rolling to a three-set win in volleyball at home on Thursday for the Cubs' first win of the season.

None of the sets were close with Madison winning by scores of 25-15, 25-13, 25-11.

Lilly Canida had a big day for the Cubs, posting 11 kills and two blocks while also collecting 10 digs. Kallie Eder had nine kills, two blocks and 13 digs, Hannah Dart had 27 assists and six digs, Maylie Skinner had 10 digs and four kills, Audrey Miller had 21 digs, and Libby Bronkella had three blocks.

Madison kept the train rolling on Saturday, sweeping Seymour in three sets, 25-20, 25-22, 27-25.

Eder had 11 kills and 14 digs for the Cubs, Canida had nine kills and 15 digs with two blocks, Skinner had seven kills and 15 digs, Dart had 32 assists and nine digs, and Marley Stivers had 11 digs.

"We played a great game today. The girls came out ready and worked together for a big win against Seymour," Madison coach Camille Crim said. "We have a great team that pushes each other and works together to be the best that they can be. Our upperclassmen/leaders set a great example for the underclassmen. You can tell by watching our team play, just how much they care about each other and working together to accomplish big things."

Madison, now 2-1 on the season hosts Charlestown on Thursday. The Cubs then play host to their own invitational on Saturday.

OTHER GAMES

Switzerland County suffered a three-set loss at Rising Sun in volleyball on Thursday.

The Pacers lost by scores of 25-23, 25-14 and 25-12.

Switzerland, now 0-6 overall, traveled to South Dearborn on Monday and hosts South Ripley on Tuesday.

Carroll County's volleyball squad dropped a two-set match at home to Portland Christian on Saturday.

The Panthers lost by scores of 25-12 and 25-16.

Carroll, now 0-2 on the season, hosted Grant County on Monday and hosts Cornerstone Christian on Tuesday. The Panthers then host Newport on Thursday.

Michigan coach Harbaugh to serve 3-game suspension

BY RALPH D. RUSSO
AP COLLEGE FOOTBALL WRITER

Michigan coach Jim Harbaugh will serve a three-game suspension to start this season as part of self-imposed penalties for NCAA recruiting infractions.

The suspension announced Monday will take Harbaugh off the sideline for the second-ranked Wolverines' home games against East Carolina, UNLV and Bowling Green. He will be permitted to coach the team during the week, as per NCAA rules.

"While the ongoing NCAA matter continues through the NCAA process, today's announcement is our way of addressing mistakes that our department has agreed to in an attempt to further that process," Michigan athletic director Warde Manuel said. "We will continue to support coach Harbaugh, his staff, and our outstanding student-athletes. Per the NCAA's guidelines, we cannot comment further until the matter is resolved."

Michigan said interim coaching appointments would be announced at a later date.

The Wolverines are coming off its second straight Big Ten championship and College Football Playoff appearance under Harbaugh, who is 74-25 in eight seasons at his alma mater.

Michigan had proposed a four-game suspension as part of a negotiated resolution to the case with NCAA enforcement staff, but the association's committee on infractions reportedly declined to accept that proposal. Without confirming the status of the negotiated resolution, which was submitted by Michigan to the NCAA last month, the NCAA put out a terse statement in response to reports that the settlement was in danger of not being accepted.

Michigan head coach Jim Harbaugh gestures during the first half of the Fiesta Bowl NCAA college football semifinal playoff game against TCU on Dec. 31, 2022, in Glendale, Ariz.

"The Michigan infractions case is related to impermissible on and off-campus recruiting during the COVID-19 dead period and impermissible coaching activities — not a cheeseburger," Derrick Crawford, NCAA vice president of hearing operations, said in a statement. "It is not uncommon for the COI to seek clarification on key facts prior to accepting. The COI may also reject an NR if it determines that the agreement is not in the best interests of the Association or the penalties are not reasonable."

The cheeseburger mention is in reference to speculation by Michigan fans that gained traction online that the alleged infractions were related to Michigan coaches paying for a recruit's lunch during a dead-period visit.

Michigan self-imposing a penalty does not end the case. It is unclear whether Michigan has even received an official notice of allegations from the NCAA. Without a negotiated resolution, the case would need to go before the committee on infractions before a ruling is handed down.

Richardson, Fields sit out as Ehlinger rallies Colts

BY MICHAEL MAROT
ASSOCIATED PRESS

INDIANAPOLIS — Anthony Richardson's home debut was put on hold Saturday night.

Gardner Minshew and Sam Ehlinger took care of business.

Four days after learning Richardson would be the opening-day starter, Minshew responded by leading Indianapolis to its first score against the Chicago Bears and Ehlinger rallied the Colts for two fourth-quarter touchdowns and a 24-17 victory.

"I liked the way our guys finished there at the end, offensively and defensively," Shane Steichen said after his first victory as a head coach. "It's good to get a win."

For second-year Bears coach Matt Eberflus, it was his first preseason loss and it came in game neither of the expected headliners — Richardson, the fourth overall pick in April's draft, or Justin Fields, the Bears starting quarterback — played. Most of the starters for both teams also sat out after the teams held two joint practices in central Indiana earlier this week.

But on a day Jake Funk's 4-yard TD run and subsequent 2-point conversion run gave Indy (1-1) the lead with 4:28 to play, it was three quarterbacks — Minshew, Ehlinger and Bears undrafted rookie Tyson Bagent — who were most impressive.

Four days after Steichen named Richardson the Colts' opening-day starter, Minshew responded by going 13 of 15 with 107 yards and a nifty 4-yard touchdown pass to Juwann Winfree.

"I felt great, feeling super comfortable in Shane's offense," said Minshew, who was with Steichen in Philadelphia the last two seasons. "I've been in it a little while and I feel really the guys they have around me."

Ehlinger was 9 of 14 with 124 yards and led the team with 60 yards rushing on eight carries, including a 5-yard scoring run that cut the deficit to 17-13 midway through the fourth quarter. And while he couldn't convert the 2-point conversion pass, he did set up Funk's go-ahead score with a 22-yard completion to D.J. Montgomery.

Bagent was equally impressive after replacing Bears backup PJ Walker in the second quarter.

He led the Bears on a 17-play, 92-yard drive and tied it at 7 with a 2-yard dive into the end zone. Bagent finished 9 of 10 with 76 yards.

"I saw poise," Eberflus said when asked about the rookie from Shepherd University in West Virginia. "The delivery was there, the accuracy looked pretty good, decision-making was good."

Chicago looked as if it might pull away after Cairo Santos broke the tie with a 50-yard field goal in the third quarter and Nathan Peterman hooked up with Daurice Fountain on a 35-yard TD pass to take a 17-7 lead with 13:47 to play.

But Ehlinger had other plans.

Peterman drove Chicago to Indy's 24-yard line in the final minute but was sacked on the game's final play.

TAYLOR UPDATE

Colts running back Jonathan Taylor remains on the physically unable to perform list following offseason ankle surgery and is still mired in a contract dispute that includes a trade request.

While team owner Jim Irsay has said he will not trade the 2021 NFL rushing champ, he tried to smooth over the spat during the team's gameday telecast.

"I respect any time people are, they're trying to fight for their position, for their families and all those things," he said. "We're really excited to support him and embrace him because he's a great young man. I know (general manager) Chris Ballard is going to work hard to try to get the waters as calm as he can."

Steichen said after the game that Taylor will rejoin the team Sunday after tending to a personal issue. He did not say provide a timetable for Taylor's first practice of the season.

FOUNTAIN OF JOY

Fountain finished a team-high five receptions for 86 yards, a promising sign as he tries to return from a dislocated and fractured ankle that derailed his career in 2019. The injury occurred during a joint practice against the Cleveland Browns.

In 2020, Fountain was on the Colts active roster and practice squad but caught only two passes for 23 yards. He then signed with Kansas City Chiefs in 2021 before joining the Bears last October.

UNFORGETTABLE

It's a 2-hour, 45-minute drive from Lucas Oil Stadium to Soldier Field, but Saturday's matchup was only the sixth preseason meeting between the franchises since 2000.

While most preseason games remain staggeringly forgettable, the impact of their last one remains glaring. On that night, Aug. 24, 2019, during the second half, word leaked that Andrew Luck was retiring. He was booed as he left the field. The Colts called an impromptu postgame news conference to announce the decision.

INJURY REPORT

Indy's three-time All-Pro linebacker Shaquille sat out Thursday's practice and did not dress for Saturday's game. Indy also lost linebacker Jo Jo Domann (calf) during the game. Bears cornerback Jaylon Jones walked off the field midway through the fourth quarter which what appeared to be a left leg injury. Chicago center Cody Whitehair didn't play after hurting his right hand in practice this week.

Belt hits 2 of Jays' 5 HRs off Greene to rout Reds 10-3

CINCINNATI — Brandon Belt had his second multihomer game this season, Hyun Jin Ryu won consecutive starts for the first time since his latest Tommy John surgery and Toronto Blue Jays routed the Cincinnati Reds 10-3 Sunday to win the series between playoff contenders.

Kevin Kiermaier and Belt hit two-run homers in the second inning, and Bo Bichette, Belt and George Springer had solo shots in the fourth. Belt also homered twice against Boston on July 2 and has 10 two-homer games in his big league career.

Hunter Greene (2-5), who made his first start since June 17 after a stint on the injured list caused by right hip pain, gave up career highs of nine runs and 10 hits and tied his career high by allowing five home runs. He also gave up five at Milwaukee on May 5 last year.

Bichette homered for the first time since July 25. He was activated Saturday after being sidelined with right knee patellar tendinitis. He also tripled and scored in the first inning.

Toronto is a half-game back for the AL's last wild card and Cincinnati is one game behind for the NL's final berth.

KIDS

Reds top prospect Noelvi Marti, called up from Triple-A Louisville on Saturday, started at third base and went 1 for 4 with his first major league hit, a ninth-inning double through the right side. He joined rookies Matt McLain, Elly De La Cruz and Spencer Steer in the starting lineup.

Reds 1, Blue Jays 0

Christian Encarnacion-Strand homered in the ninth inning, and the Cincinnati Reds beat the Toronto Blue Jays 1-0 on Friday night in the opener of an interleague series between playoff contenders.

Encarnacion-Strand drove a 2-2 pitch from Jordan Hicks (2-8) deep to left for his fourth homer. It was Cincinnati's fourth hit of the game.

Cincinnati got a big lift from Brett Kennedy, who pitched five effective innings in his first major league start since July 4. The right-hander struck out two and walked one.

After Kennedy departed, Buck Farmer, Ian Gibaut, Lucas Sims and Alexis Díaz (5-4) each pitched a hitless inning. Díaz worked a 1-2-3 ninth, striking out two.

Blue Jays 4, Reds 3

Davis Schneider hit a tiebreaking solo homer and Jordan Romano worked out of a jam in the ninth inning, sending the Toronto Blue Jays to a 4-3 victory over Elly De La Cruz and the Cincinnati Reds on Saturday night.

Chris Bassitt pitched six efficient innings as Toronto rebounded from a stretch of five losses in seven games. All-Star Bo Bichette hit an RBI single in his first big league game since July 31.

De La Cruz had two hits for Cincinnati, including a wild run around the bases in the fourth. TJ Friedl homered, and Christian Encarnacion-Strand collected two of the team's six hits.

Schneider went deep against Brandon Williamson (4-3) with one out in the fifth, giving Toronto a 4-3 lead. It was Schneider's third homer of the season.

Cincinnati tied it at 3 with three runs in the bottom half of the fourth. Friedl led off with his 11th homer after the Reds went down in order in each of the first three innings. McLain then walked before De La Cruz hit a liner that caromed off the bottom of the wall in right.

McLain scored easily on the triple. Right fielder Cavan Biggio retrieved the ball and fired wildly back to the infield. The throw trickled through to foul territory beyond the third-base line, and De La Cruz raced home, beating third baseman Matt Chapman's flip to the plate.

Wife gains husband, husband gains weight

Dear Amy: My husband and I have been married for nine years.

When we were newly married, we had the luxury of running after work and hiking on the weekends. We did not have a lot of stress.

Fast-forward to two kids, a home, careers and a life out of balance — and my husband has gained about 60 pounds.

I am not judging him, as I completely understand the problem of stress eating, aging, and having too little time to work out. I'll love him no matter what.

My issue is his health. I'm terrified of him having a heart attack or a stroke. He is a smart guy and knows he needs to lose weight, but the problem is that he won't try.

He eats bags of cookies, brownies, and fast food. He refuses to go to the doctor because he says he "needs to lose weight first," but he won't make the effort to do so. He hasn't had a physical in more than seven years.

I cannot bring myself to tell him that he really needs to lose weight, as I don't want to make him feel worse than I know he already does.

I'm guessing it's partially an emotional issue. It's getting to the point where something has to change. How do I address this with him without making him feel ashamed or judged?

— Worried About Wellness Wife

AMY DICKINSON
ASK AMY

Dear Worried: Your husband knows that he has an eating and weight problem. He has expressed as much to you, because he says that he is avoiding getting a checkup because of the dreaded scale at the doctor's office (anyone can decline to be weighed by the doctor, by the way).

So first, you should urge your husband to see his doctor and ask not to be weighed, if being weighed makes him uncomfortable.

People sometimes overeat for a variety of complicated reasons, and if a person is committed to diving in and decoding these reasons and triggers, it can help them to regain a sense of control.

A nutritionist can help to reset some of these behaviors through education and coaching; a therapist can help by talking about stress and offering coping techniques.

You could open this up as a topic, if he is willing to discuss it.

Assure him that you love him, that you've got his back, and that you will make space for him to pursue any endeavors that might help him to regain his good health. If he doesn't want to discuss it, leave the topic alone. He'll get there when he's ready.

Cousin debates disclosing brutal truth

Dear Amy: My younger cousin, "Thomas," recently moved close enough to make visits between us possible.

Thomas is married to a lovely woman. They've extended an invitation to me, my husband, and adult children, to come to their new place for dinner.

This would be lovely, except that his father, who was married to my mother's sister, sexually molested me and my sister when we were young. I have no desire to be anywhere near this creepy uncle. I never let him near my own children, unsupervised, when they were young, and they have no relationship with him. My mother and her sister are both long-deceased, and I have no idea if they knew what was going on when my sister or I would babysit for Thomas and sleep at the house overnight.

My dad mentioned knowing about this before he died. I am sad that he didn't confront his brother-in-law and protect his own daughters.

How do I beg off visiting my cousin without opening up this can of worms?

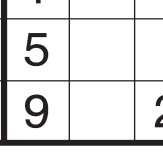
They have no children, so at least that's not something I need to be vigilant about.

I could invite him and his wife to my place, but they're understandably eager for us to see their new home.

But I am so NOT eager to see the creepy uncle, though he is now elderly and feeble.

I don't want to lose the connection with my cousin, but I don't have any good reasons/excuses without being brutally honest, which I'm hoping to not have to be in this case. Your wisdom is much appreciated.

— Weary and Wary



AMY DICKINSON
ASK AMY

Dear Weary and Wary: I'm so sorry this happened to you and your sister, and that you didn't have the support and protection of family members.

You don't mention if this creepy uncle of yours lives in "Thomas'" household, or if he would be present if you visited. I see your overall dilemma as a question of whether you should tell — or keep silent — about this aspect of your life.

You frame delivering the truth as being "brutally honest." But I wonder if you could approach this with less brutality and more compassion — both toward yourself and also your cousin, who may have had some awareness of this, or perhaps been a victim, himself. A therapist could help you to weigh these options. If you do decide to tell, you could start by saying, "I'm really sorry to have to tell you this. I'm very fond of you and want to continue to have a close relationship. This is heartbreaking for me, and I know it will be hard for you, but I need to tell you the truth about what happened to me…"

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — No matter what advantages credit cards may claim to give you, instead what they do is make it easier to spend more than you may actually have. Cut back on the fluff and focus on the essentials to get ahead.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — If you fall, you can always get back up. Pressure may be put on you to make changes or decisions that seem unnecessary right now. Put your career and major household decisions on the back burner for a while.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Reciprocate all favors, especially when you are part of a team or group. You could misplace your car keys or be careless about possessions. Use brainpower, not the power of your wallet, for the best results.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — You can dream about romantic moments or a better life without losing sight of your obligations. Keep your eye on receipts and card charges to guard against any mistakes and fraud. Focus on thrifty habits.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — The trees with the deepest roots can weather the worst storms with the least amount of damage. It may be difficult to withstand high pressure tactics or oversee moral dilemmas without loved ones to back you up.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — You might see a pattern in the pictures on your dream board, and there may be a shape that fits a project you have been planning. The time for a new adventure could be coming if you are ready to take advantage.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Astute assessments of herd mentality may be your secret to success. You could calculate and predict how most people could react in any given situation. Remain confident that you can manage unpleasant tasks.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Complications can creep in like a cat in the night. A small crack in your plans may not mean that hope is lost. Be proud of yourself for not falling apart and instead becoming stronger in the face of stress.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — You may be playing a board game under the rules of a card game and do not understand why you cannot win. Before you take your place at a table be sure of the game you are playing, its rules and the stakes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — A compliment may mask some criticisms. You could earn bonus points for not neglecting friends or shirking your duties. You might possess the drive and determination to make your fondest dreams a reality.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Keep extra bills or large demands on your heart in perspective. Hold off on major expenditures or new investments until you may be feeling more secure. Help a family member with their problems when you can.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — You may be able to cover up a mistake which could eventually become known, then you could face the consequences twice. The more you believe in yourself the more likely you can handle a minor but overwhelming task.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — A song you have been hearing in your head could be a reminder of a significant moment in your life. Think carefully about what the song used to mean to you, there might be something more that you feel called to do.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — If it feels like you are sailing along smoothly, the wind could suddenly shift, and you may end up running aground. Show your character and prove what you are made of by resisting corruption or unethical influences.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — One advantage of an extensive career may be the chance to meet more key people. Save yourself some time and start collecting important names at meetings so you know who to call if things begin to get exciting.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — If you meet a challenge successfully, celebrate, especially when no one else seems to notice. It could be up to you to share your triumphs and spread the word. Do not discard something that can still be useful.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — You never know who is dealing with what or where someone will end up. Be kind to everybody. An intern can grow up and get a title and they may remember you with fondness when others walked right on by.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Manage the toughest situations and you could receive the highest praise. You may have dreamt about a Tony or an Oscar, but you need to put in the work and take the time to meet the right people to gain a nomination.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — People may want to have a successful novel but do not want to write. To reach your goals you need to do more than just plan for your inevitable fame and put in the actual work. Stop dreaming and return to your desk.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — You are not in charge of someone else's happiness. If they show up with a dark cloud above their head, give them the room, they may need to work through their difficult day. Do your best to remain cheerful.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Some of the busiest people might try to disguise how things are really going behind the scenes. It may be time to start focusing on documenting all your duties so any possible failures cannot be blamed on you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — You could be intensely and passionately focused on your goals. Reaching career, school or creative objectives can make heavy demands on your time or emotions for now but provide bountiful rewards in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — If money is uncertain people can start looking for reasons to make cuts or excuses to keep people they like. Even if you are not able to be the favorite be careful that you are not chosen to get a pink slip.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Once you get the hang of it, juggling three balls at once could become a simple act. Learn to manage it if life starts pitching extra balls at you and an endless barrage of problems can stop soon and be easier.

QB Ridder impressive in preseason debut

BY PAUL NEWBERRY
ASSOCIATED PRESS

ATLANTA — Desmond Ridder and all those young offensive weapons gave a glimpse of what they can do for the Atlanta Falcons.

A bunch of yellow flags slowed their progress.

Ridder led an impressive but penalty-plagued drive in his preseason debut, and the Falcons settled for a field goal with 2 seconds left for a 13-13 tie with the Cincinnati Bengals on Friday night.

After sitting the starters last week in a 19-3 victory at Miami, the Falcons (1-0-1) went with the No. 1s for their opening possession.

That included their last three first-round picks: tight end Kyle Pitts, wide receiver Drake London and running back Bijan Robinson.

Ridder, heading into his first full season as the starting quarterback, got all of them involved.

London hauled in two passes for 33 yards. Robinson carried four times for 20 yards and snared a 6-yard completion. Pitts, coming back from a knee injury, made a one-handed grab.

"They've put playmakers around me," Ridder said. "It's up to me to let them go play. I put the ball in their hands."

Ridder completed 7 of 9 passes for 80 yards and also broke off a 7-yard run before the drive ended with an interception off a deflected pass. Cornerback Mike Hilton appeared to make contact with intended receiver Scotty Miller before the throw arrived, but no flag was thrown. The ball bounced into the air and was picked off by defensive end Joseph Ossai.

"The ref didn't make the call," Ridder said. "That's something I've got to live with."

There were plenty of other calls. The Falcons were flagged for holding on the opening kickoff return and four more penalties on the first possession, including two holding calls on guard Chris Lindstrom.

"Up 10, back 5," Ridder said. "That's not the most efficient way to the end zone. It's about cleaning that up."

Cincinnati coach Zac Taylor was pleased with his defense for stopping the Falcons when the first-teamers were on the field. Ridder and Co. played only that first series before calling it a night.

"It was good for them in game-type conditions, against a starting offense, having their backs against the wall a little bit, and find a way to make a play," Taylor said.

Despite the penalties and the pick, it was a promising start to 2023 for the young quarterback who carries Atlanta's hopes of breaking a streak of five straight losing seasons.

Ridder started four games as a rookie at the end of last season, leading the Falcons to a 2-2 record and persuading coach Arthur Smith that he can handle the job.

After a snoozer of a game, the final minute provided some dramatics in a largely empty stadium, with a bunch of backups and roster hopefuls on the field.

Jake Browning guided an 80-yard drive to that put the Bengals (0-1-1) ahead 13-10 with 50 seconds remaining. He completed four passes for 42 yards and scrambled twice for another 33 yards, setting up Chase Brown's 1-yard touchdown run with 50 seconds remaining.

But Atlanta third-stringer Logan Woodside connected on three straight passes for 53 yards before a third-down throw in the end zone was batted down. To a smattering of boos, the Falcons sent out Younghoe Koo for the tying 45-yard field goal with 2 seconds left.

"Obviously, we're not playing for a tie," Smith said. "We wanted a TD there. But we were able to put Koo out there and he made a pressure kick."

The Bengals went with Trevor Siemian in the first half while franchise quarterback Joe Burrow continues his recovery from a calf injury. Burrow came up hobbling after scrambling at a training camp practice on July 27.

Siemian was 7 of 14 for 62 yards, guiding the Bengals into position for Eva McPherson's 50-yard field goal on the final play of the first half that sent the teams to the locker room tied at 3.

Taylor Heinicke, the former Washington starter who signed in free agency to back up Ridder, was 13 of 21 for 162 yards and hooked up with J.J. Arcega-Whiteside on a 28-yard completion that up the Falcons' only touchdown. Carlos Washington Jr. took it in from the 1.

CHALLENGE WOES

Taylor's challenge game is still working out the preseason kinks.

The Bengals coach challenged two calls in the first half — only to lose a pair of timeouts when both rulings were upheld.

London's 21-yard reception was allowed to stand for the Falcons, while a video review confirmed that Cincinnati's Kwamie Lassiter didn't get both feet down on a throw along the sideline.

BALL HOG

Falcons safety DeMarcco Hellams, a seventh-round pick out of Alabama, had an interception for the second week in a row.

"He shows up when the lights are on," Smith said. "That's what he did at Alabama. He can find the football."

LOTS OF YELLOW

The Falcons finished with 13 penalties for 102 yards, while the Bengals were flagged seven times for 55 yards.

INJURY REPORT

Atlanta WR KhaDarel Hodge went down in the first half with a left ankle injury and didn't return. ... Another Falcons receiver, Penny Hart, looked groggy after being sandwiched between two defenders attempting to make a fourth-down catch.

Saturday. Madison's boys compete in the Taylor Invitational on Saturday.

Shawe runs at Switzerland County on Tuesday.

SWITZ COMPETES AT SHELBYVILLE

Switzerland County's cross country teams opened the season at the Jeremy Wright Memorial Small School Invitational at Shelbyville on Saturday.

Switzerland's girls placed sixth out of 10 teams while the boys were 20th out of 23 teams.

Freshman Ellie Keith led the Pacers in the girls race, placing eighth overall in 22:44. Amber Detmer was 50th in 25:32, Lainie McAlister was 53rd in 25:45, Claire Rogers was 69th in 26:51 and Carlee Boggs was 81st in 28:01. Ashlyn Covington was 96th in 29:11 and Jazmyn Blevins was 106th in 30:25 to round out Switzerland's team.

"The sky's the limit for this team this season and I am confident that each of the girls realized today that they can be very competitive this season," Switzerland coach Tye Sullivan said. "We left a lot of team points out there on the course Saturday, so we definitely have work to do if we want to be at a level that we are capable of running."

Southwestern placed seventh in the event. No details on the Rebels were available.

Sophomore Luke Sullivan led the Switzerland boys, placing 64th in 20:30. Three other sophomores followed Sullivan across the line with Cale Collier coming in 77th in 20:48, Ty Lay 108th in 21:36 and Gavin Rich 137th in 22:32. Dylan Sullivan was 179th in 24:20 and Harlowe Harris finished 216th in 30:37.

"I am really pleased with the performance of our four sophomore runners on Saturday," Coach Sullivan said. "Luke is coming off a foot injury this summer, but was still able to improve his time from this same race last season. Ty and Gavin gutted out their first varsity cross country race and as they get more acclimated to the 3.1 mile distance they will continue to see their times drop."

Switzerland County hosts Shawe, Carroll County and Rising Sun on Tuesday. The Pacers then take a long break before running in the Columbus North Classic on Sept. 2.

Spain earns first Women's World Cup title over England

BY ANNE M. PETERSON
ASSOCIATED PRESS

SYDNEY — Spain was celebrating its first Women's World Cup trophy Sunday after an impressive display proved too much for England in a 1-0 victory for La Roja.

Olga Carmona scored in the first half of the final and Spain held on to cap the month-long tournament.

Overcoming the turmoil that had surrounded the team, the victory made Spain the first team to hold the under-17, under-20 and senior world titles at the same time. Spain is the fifth winner in nine editions of the Women's World Cup and joined Germany as the only two nations to win both the men's and women's titles.

At the final whistle the Spanish players piled on each other in front of their goal. They were still dancing on the field until the trophy presentations, where they kissed the trophy and raised their arms triumphantly as golden glitter fell from above.

"We've suffered a lot throughout the past 12 months but I think everything has a reason to be. This has made us a stronger team," Carmona said after the game. "And it's really incredible. I don't know just why Spain is the world champions, but I think that we deserved it."

After the final, Carmona learned of her father's death, the Spanish soccer federation said. It did not say when Carmona's father died or give a cause of death. "We love you, Olga," the federation said on X, formerly known as Twitter. "You are part of the history of Spanish soccer."

The Lionesses were trying to bring a World Cup back to England for the first time since the men won it in 1966. The wait will go on.

"At first you feel like you failed with not winning," England captain Millie Bright said. "I think in a couple of weeks and it settles, (we) will be really, really proud."

MATCH

"There were still a lot of good things that happened. For example, we blocked an extra point. There were several tackles for losses. We were still getting penetration," Wilson said. "The physicality (by Greenfield) out of the gate from both sides looks really, really good. And I think there were some moments where we got a little deflated because of either a turnover or mental mistake and (Greenfield) was able to capitalize. But I liked the way the guys continued to fight even when it got to the point where the score was out of hand. They were still communicating and that is how far we've come."

Freeman completed 9-of-11 passes for 239 yards with four touchdowns, with Kirk Knecht catching four passes for 141 yards and two scores. Knecht also had an interception.

Madison finished with 37 yards total offense, nearly all of which came on the first drive of the game. Both teams played backups for most of the second half with neither team moving the ball.

Madison is 0-1 for the sixth-straight season but Wilson can't wait to get back to work. This year marks the third-straight season that the Cubs have opened the season with a long trip against a strong opponent and each of the past two years, Madison has responded by playing well the following week.

"Sometimes you walk on the field and you're out-matched. At the end of the day, what are you going to do about it? How are you going to respond? And that's one of our key things: being able to handle adversity," Wilson said. "You either control your response, or you let the event control you. And our guys have learned that if we can handle this moment, it will help us next week and the week after so I fully expect a bounce back week."

Madison travels to South Dearborn on Friday. The Knights lost their season opener 41-25 on Friday night at Jennings County.

The Cubs and Knights have played some close games in recent seasons with Dearborn winning 15-12 a year ago while Madison prevailed 29-26 in 2021 after falling 32-26 in overtime in 2020.
